Overview

This extension gives you the chance to manage shipping prices for each item separately in a flexible and easy way. You can even use a product attribute to set the shipping price. Keep reading this document to see what you can do with the extension.

Features

You may require more flexibility in set the shipping price because different kind of product requires also different shipping costs.

- Different shipping price sources:
    - Product Attribute
    - Calculated based on the item price
        - The shipping rate is set to a percentage of the item price
    - Classic fix price for every product
- Compute shipping cost for each quantity purchased of a product
- A fix base price to add to all product (before applying the price source)
- Define a new shipping method in addition to the Magento default ones
- Specify countries where the shipment method will be applied to

User Guide:

Once the extension is installed you will find the settings in System > Configuration > Sales > Shipping Methods.

Here, If the extension is correctly installed, you will find "Magenz Shipping Per Product Carrier" section among the other Shipping methods.

Select 'Yes' at the 'Enabled' setting to active the shipping method.

Then, write a Title and a Method name of your choice.

Now, Proceed with the 'Calculation settings' :

- 'Compute Shipping per qty'. 'Yes' means that if you have two quantities purchased for an item, the shipping rate is computed twice, i.e. once for each quantity
- 'Base price'. A fixed base amount to add to every ordered item, in addition to the shipping rate
- 'Shipping price source'. You can choose 'Custom Attribute' or 'Based on item sold' or 'Fix shipping cost for every product'. If you choose the first one, you will enter the Magento attribute code containing the shipping rate for a product. If you choose the second one, you will enter the percentage of the item price that will be added as Shipping rate.
- In case you decide to compute the shipping rate based on the item price, you can choose if the percentage has to be calculated on the price including the tax or not
